EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

In claim 9, line 15, "imputing" has been changed to -- inputting--to correct the spelling error.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a subminiature bone conduction speaker. Independent claims 1, 6 and 9 identify the uniquely distinct feature of a howling-prevention hole in an auxiliary vibrating plate so that a howling effect is prevented at ears of the user in combination with all the disclosed limitations of claims 1, 6 and 9. The closest prior art Kang et al (US 6,483,917 teaches a receiver used in a telephone with bone-conduction and air-conduction properties but fails to teach a howl-prevention hole; Sakai (US 6850138) teaches a vibration actuator used in a cell phone but fails to teach a howl-prevention hole; Borwick ("Loudspeaker and Headphone Handbook") teaches the use of neodymium alloy magnets in transducers; Han (WO 02/25989 A1) teaches connection lines passed through the body of a transducer; Bank (US 6885753) teaches the use of a bone conduction transducer in a mobile phone; and Schumaier (US 2002/0122563) teaches the use of plastic in the construction of a mastoid in a vibration transducer. The prior art fails to anticipate or render the independent claims obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
